

DO YOU HAVE...?

HAVE YOU GOT...?

There are two forms to express possession in English:

Have or Have got

Do you have a car?

Have you got a car?

He hasn't got any friends.

He doesn't have any friends.

She has a beautiful new home.

She's got a beautiful new home.

While both forms are correct (and accepted in both British and American English), have got (have you got, he hasn't got, etc.) is generally the preferred form in British English while most speakers of American English employ have (do you have, he doesn't have, etc.)
